

ANIMALS, EMERGENCIES & DISASTERS: WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW NOW!

Free Online Workshop
February 7, 2022 6-7:30 pm

HALTER
Project

Hosted by Bodega Bay CERT

Join Bodega Bay CERT and HALTER Project Founder-Director Julie Atwood for this important and timely presentation. Pets, equines, backyard farm animals, commercial livestock, and wildlife will all be discussed.

Topics:

- What to do in an Animal Emergency or Disaster
- How to request help
- Evacuation and Shelter-in-Place prep
- Go-Bags, Stay Crates, Emergency Supplies
- Large Animal Technical Rescue
- How to become an Animal Disaster Volunteer or join a CERT
- Resource links

There will be breaks between topic segments, and at the end for live Q&A. We hope participants will come with questions ready!

Click here to REGISTER in advance for this meeting.

Or register at BodegaBayCERT.org

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing Zoom link to join the meeting on February 7, 6:00 – 7:30 pm.

Questions? Email: Rescue@halterfund.org

About the Speaker

HALTER PROJECT was founded in 2013 to help owners of pets, equines backyard and commercial livestock be better prepared for local emergencies and large-scale disasters. The program provides free resources, sponsored trainings, equipment and grants to rural fire agencies and organizations, and is a FEMA Individual and Community Preparedness and Award recipient.

Founder/Director Julie Atwood is a longtime Sonoma County resident, horsewoman/cat person, and a volunteer with multiple regional and state Disaster Response teams. She is a frequent presenter at regional, national, and international conferences.

Hosted by Bodega Bay CERT as part of its Community Preparedness Program.

Special thanks to FireSAFE Sonoma

